EACH COUNTRIES MONUMENTS.

France, Saint-melo 3 medieval monuments:

1. The Abbey Notre-Dame du Tronchet (address:10 D119, 35540 Le Tronchet, Francia)

A hermit named Gaultier retired in the 12th century in the forest of Mesnil to pray in solitude and contemplate nature. The faith of man attracted many faithful who settled in a religious community. It gave birth to a first church which would later become the Abbey of Notre-Dame du Tronchet

Price: Free entrance

2. Notre-Dame de Beaufort Monastery (address:Notre-Dame de Beaufort 35 540 PLERGUER)

A monastery is still active in Beaufort in the town of Le Plerguer. A community of nuns of the Order of Preachers is installed in an old manor, the Château de Beaufort, whose origins date back to the Middle Ages.

Price: Free entrance

3. The parish enclosure of Saint-Suliac (address: Ker Mor 12 Les Clos de Brond 35430 Saint sulliac)

Ranked among the Most Beautiful Villages of France, the fishing village of Saint-Suliac, located on the banks of Rance is known for its 13th century Gothic style church. The early church existed as early as the 11th century as evidenced by the gable of the west door of Romanesque style.

Price: Free entrance

Latvia, Rīga 3 medieval monuments:

1. Riga castle (address: Pils laukums 3, Riga 1050, Latvia)

Built in 1330 as a base for the Livonian Order, the castle was destroyed several times during battles with the local townspeople. After the Order's destruction, the various occupiers of the city housed their governors inside. Latvia's first post-Cold War president Guntis Ulmanis made it his official office to continue the tradition begun by Latvia's interwar presidents in the 1920s and 1930s. It also housed the National History Museum of Latvia, but tragically, a fire broke out during renovations on June 21, 2013 and parts of the interior were gutted. Priceless historical objects from the museum that were stored in the basement were also damaged or destroyed.

Price: : € 48.00

2. St. Peter's church ((address: Skārņu iela 19, Centra rajons, Rīga, LV-1050)

First mentioned in ancient chronicles in 1209, St. Peter's was a Catholic church until 1523, when it turned Lutheran. Its wooden tower, the highest in Europe at that time, was destroyed several times. It first collapsed in 1666 and was rebuilt a year later. To see how long it would last, the builders hurled a glass from the top: the more pieces the vessel broke into, the greater the tower's longevity. Alas, a pile of straw cushioned the glass' fall and the spire burnt down one year later. Artillery fire destroyed the structure again in 1941. In 1973 it was finally rebuilt and the glass ritual was repeated, this time with smashing results. Take the lift to the observation platform for spectacular views of the city.

Price: Free entrance

3. Riga cathedral (address: Herdera laukums 6, Centra rajons, Rīga, LV-1050)

The largest place of worship in the Baltics, measuring 187 x 43m, with walls two metres thick, Riga Cathedral also has one of the biggest organs in Europe (6,718 pipes!). It was such a marvel in its day that Franz Liszt composed a piece of music in its honour. The drop from Cathedral Square (Doma laukums) to the church's base shows how the level of the city has risen in the eight centuries since its foundations were laid on the site of a Livonian fishing village in 1211. Although currently undergoing renovations, it's still open to the public. The price of the ticket also includes access to its Romanesque cloist.

Price: : € 3.00

Greece, Trikala 3 monuments:

1. The Osman Shah Mosque (adress: Davaki 6, Trikala 421 00, Grecia)

or Kursum Mosque is a 16th-century Ottoman mosque in the city of Trikala in Greece.

The mosque was founded by Osman Shah, also known as Kara Osman Pasha. Osman was the son of one of Sultan Selim I's daughters, and for a long time dwelt in Trikala as the governor of the local province (Sanjak of Trikala). The exact dating of the mosque is uncertain, but it was probably built in the period 1550–60, most likely in the late 1550s. Osman attached several charitable establishments to the mosque, among others a madrasah, an alms house, and a caravanserai, and was himself buried in a türbe in the mosque's southern courtyard at the time of his death in 1567/8. By the time of Evliya Çelebi's visit a century later, the mosque was the principal mosque of the city.

Price: Free entrance

2. The Trikala Castle (address: 44 Stratigou Sarafi Stefanou, Trikala 421 00, Greece)

is the Byzantine-era citadel of the city of Trikala in western Thessaly, Greece.

Price: Free entrance

3. Church of the Dormition of Virgin Mary in Achladochori (address: 72 Stamatiou Proiou, 841 00, Greece)

the church was built in a rare architectural form, covered with a cross-shaped (or cruciform) roof and having a narthex on the western side. It dates back to the late 13th century and it is one of the few existing nowadays monuments of this particular form and period in the region of Thessaly.

Price: Free entrance

Italy, Bitonto 3 monuments:

1. The Angioina tower (Address: Cavour square, Bitonto, Italy)

The Angevin Tower is the greatest and strongest tower of the twenty-eight ones located along the walls of the city of Bitonto. Its typical cylindrical shape excludes the possibility of a defensive tower that has generally a quadrangular plan. The spaces on the first and third floor have a circular shape, while those on the second one have a rectangular plan with a cross vault. Today the tower houses the Gallery of Contemporary Art.

Price: Free entrance

2. The Church of Saint Francis of Assisi (Address: Minerva square, Bitonto, Italy)

The Church of St. Francis of Assisi, known as the church of the Shoe, was built at the highest point in Bitonto in 1283 on a land donated by the Benedictine nuns from St. Lucy's monastery. According to the tradition, it was built in memory of the visit, in 1222, by St. Francis of Assisi and his brother Luca from Bitonto. Until the XIX century, the building was entrusted to the Franciscan friars, who built a monastery and a seminar nearby. The façade, in late Romanesque style, is featured by a portal with a pointed arch and topped by an archway with decorations depicting flowers and oxen, in homage to the Bove family who promoted the construction of the church, and by a large three-mullioned window enclosed by a pointed arch as well, supported by small columns. Right next to the façade there are a large sixteenth-century chapel with dome and a seventeenth-century bell tower, divided into three orders by belt courses and topped by an onion dome.

Price: Free entrance

3. Bitonto cathedral (address: Via Porta Robustina Bitonto, Italy)

The cathedral, dedicated to Saint Mary, was the seat of the small Bishopric of Bitonto from the bishopric's foundation, believed to be in the 8th century, until 1818, when it was combined with the neighbouring Diocese of Ruvo to form the Diocese of Ruvo e Bitonto. This was separated again in 1982, and the Diocese of Bitonto, with Bitonto Cathedral as its seat, was briefly revived, but was combined with the Archdiocese of Bari in 1986 to form the Archdiocese of Bari-Bitonto, in which Bitonto Cathedral is now a co-cathedral.

Spain, Calatayud 3 monuments:

1. San andreas church

San Andres Church is located at the Plaza de San Andres. It was founded right after the city was conquered by King Alfonso I and it is believed that the first church used an old mezquita. The actual church was built in the 15th and 16th centuries with a beautiful Mudejar tower that is one of the highest in the city. In 1870 the church was almost demolished because of the poor state of conservation of the church, but the Diputacion Provincial ordered it to be saved and its tower to be reinforced. The church was restored between 1990 and 1992 by the architect Francisco Javier Peña Gonzalvo

Price: Free entrance

2. Old Muslim Islamic fortress

that it served to protect the town of Calatayud in the province of Zaragoza

Price: Free entrance

3. church of santa maria (Adress: Calle Sta. María, 5, 50300 Calatayud, Zaragoza, Spain)

The church was commissioned in the 12th century after the Reconquista of Calatayud by King Alfonso I el Batallador. This church was sited where the main mosque of the town was located.

The church assumed a historical position in that it hosted some of the meetings of the Cortes de Calatayud during the reign of King Pedro IV of Aragon, and where the town swore allegiance to Emperor Charles I and later to King Philip III of Spain. The church was declared Bien de Interés Cultural in 1884.

Poland, Kacowice 3 monuments (near Jastrzębie-Zrój):

1. Wawel cathedral (address: Wawel 3, 31-001 Kraków, Poland)

The Royal Archcathedral Basilica of Saints Stanislaus and Wenceslaus on the Wawel Hill (Polish: królewska bazylika archikatedralna św. Stanisława i Wacława na Wawelu), also known as the Wawel Cathedral (Polish: katedra wawelska), is a Roman Catholic church located on Wawel Hill in Kraków, Poland. More than 900 years old, it is the Polish national sanctuary and traditionally has served as coronation site of the Polish monarchs as well as the Cathedral of the Archdiocese of Kraków. Karol Wojtyła, who in 1978 became Pope John Paul II, the day after his ordination to the priesthood, offered his first Mass as a priest in the Crypt of the Cathedral on 2 November 1946, and was ordained Kraków's auxiliary bishop in the Cathedral on 28 September 1958.

Price: € 5.00

2. Saint Mary's basilica (address: plac Mariacki 5, 31-042 Krakow, Polonia)

Church of Our Lady Assumed into Heaven (also known as Saint Mary's Church; Polish: Kościół Wniebowzięcia Najświętszej Maryi Panny, Kościół Mariacki) is a Brick Gothic church adjacent to the Main Market Square in Kraków, Poland. Built in the 14th century, its foundations date back to the early 13th century and serve as one of the best examples of Polish Gothic architecture. Standing 80 m (262 ft) tall, it is particularly famous for its wooden altarpiece carved by Veit Stoss.

Price: free entrance

3. Cistercian abbey (address: Benedyktyńska 37, 30-398 Kraków, Polonia)

The Cistercian Abbey consists of a church and monastery with a large garden-park behind it. The Cistercians came to Poland in 1140 and founded abbeys around the country, including this one in 1222. The church has a large three-nave interior with a balanced mix of Gothic, Renaissance and Baroque furnishings and decoration. Have a look at the Chapel of the Crucified Christ (in the left transept), the polyptych in the high altar and the beautiful stained-glass windows behind it.
